West Germany Inducts First 101 into New Army

BONN, Germany (AP) — The first 101 soldiers of West Germany's new army were inducted today in a shabby garage decorated with bunting and a huge iron cross, the symbol of German militarism since 1813.

It was a purposely simple ceremony and only a few, local clicks by officers and the handshakes and salutes by the few officers in uniform were a reminder of the German armies that were smashed in World Wars I and II.

The ceremony came 37 years and one day after the Kaiser accepted the 1918 armistice and 10 years and six months after the Allies destroyed Adolf Hitler's Wehrmacht in the greatest war the world has ever known.

The men of the new, democratic "Streitkräfte" were inducted by Defense Minister Theodor Blank in the garage that is used as a training shed. The brief ceremony was in keeping with the firm intentions of the federal republic never again to allow the military to become a "state within a state."

There was no brass band and no marching. Only 12 of the men were in uniforms and the uniforms themselves bore little resemblance to the field gray German uniforms of old. These had American and British touches.

The men sworn in today included two lieutenant generals, 18 lieutenant colonels, 30 majors, 40 captains, five lieutenants, a sergeant-major and five master sergeants—the first of the eventual West German army of 500,000.

CAJON

When a couple of old prospectors after scrounging this desert forty years for gold, decided to split up it's a serious problem. The scrap started thirty-nine years ago and now that Sonora Bill has gone stone deaf and his answers don't fit Charley's arguments there weren't no more pleasure in scrap-pin.

There was plenty of well-meaning advice on how to divide their outfit. We agreed that Honest Ed Fixit had the solution. Ed flips a coin and tells Sonora Bill he's the one to divide the outfit. . . . There was two burros—Bill stacked up the two piles into what he figured was half and half, kinda thinkin' the stuff he was pilin' alongside Diana might be his, cause Charley never liked her since she chewed up the deeds to his pet claim.

Philosophin' Ed says to Charley: "Pick the pile you want." Charley says, "I'll take that pile except the burro—I want to switch and put General Pico in place of Diana." That was the finish of Honest Ed's plan. You're right, it ended by chopping everything in two parts.

C. S. Henderson Given Citation by Local Red Cross

Charles S. Henderson, who with his wife, Harriett has resided in Palm Springs for more than 31 years, this week was meritoriously cited for his services to the American Red Cross.

A plaque paying tribute to Mr. Henderson's decade of service to the American Red Cross was tendered by Dr. Robert G. Backstrom and Val Blatz. It marked the first time any one has been so recognized in Palm Springs and made an honorary member of the Riverside county chapter.

For 27 years Mr. Henderson was treasurer of the Palm Springs Community Church and until recently, a trustee. He has resigned from these offices and he was also honored in a similar way by the Church he had served so faithfully. Ill health for nine months caused Mr. Henderson's retirement from the church activities.

The couple have one son, Joe Henderson who was reared in Palm Springs and is now employed by Stack Chevrolet.

Henwood Issues Blood Bank Plea

"Establish your own private blood bank for yourself, your family and friends," was the appeal today of Robert Henwood, Desert Hospital administrator, as he reminded Villagers of the visit Monday of the Riverside-San Bernardino two county Blood Bank.

The Blood Bank will be at the hospital from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. "A private blood bank in time of need is priceless," Henwood said. "It insures a feeling of security and well being to know that it is there for use by yourself or someone dear to you."

Quota for the visit is 25 pints of blood. Reservation for donating blood may be made by calling the hospital, 2251.

Al Rose, Trailer King, Brings in Natural Gas Well

Al Rose the Trailer King may soon be acclaimed as the King of Natural Gas and this is no joke either.

It was just learned that he and an associate E. Bregman, San Gabriel, have brought in an initial natural gas well in the Willow district, 90 miles north of Sacramento.

Reports have the well blowing gas at the rate of 25,000,000 cubic feet a day and may herald further drilling of approximately 3300 acres. The well blew in at 6,000 feet.

Geologists believe that the discovery of the well may be the start of a major development of a new gas field.

LOSES WALLET HERE

Lloyd Renard, of Highland Park, reported today by phone that his wallet, containing credit cards, driver's license, and miscellaneous papers, was missing when he arrived home following a visit to the Village Thursday.

Polo Grounds Packed with Mobile Homes

Palm Springs Polo Grounds today is one of the largest Mobile Home Parks in the country.

Hundreds of trailer residents are residing there during the four-day Palm Springs Trailer Rally which started yesterday and will continue through Monday.

Trailers arrived in the Village all day, and the Polo Grounds now is completely filled with the Mobile Homes.

FESTIVITIES started last night with a stage show, featuring entertainers, all night clubs shows in Palm Springs and square dancing. Another stage show and dance is scheduled tonight.

The Rally also offers the largest free trailer show in the country, with 80 of the newest models of vacation and residence types of trailers on display. They range from 12 foot models to 60 foot de luxe residences.

All accessories which could possibly be used in a trailer are also being displayed by manufacturers. Barbecues and a chuckwagon breakfast are also being offered all persons in attendance, and highlight of the four day event will be a prize session at 2 p.m., Sunday.

THE RALLY is endorsed by the C.T.P.A. and T.C.A. organizations, and is sponsored by the following trailer parks in the Palm Springs area:

Beckley Trailer Park, Blue Skies Trailer Village, De Luxe Trailer Park, Desert Trailer Village, Horizon Trailer Village, Indian Wells Trailer Park, Orchard Trailer Villa, Palm Springs Trailer Corral, Palm Springs Trailer Village, Prairie Schooner Trailer Lodge, Ramon Trailer Park, Rancho Trailer Park, Sahara Park, Skyridge Trailer Park, Smoke Tree Trailer Park, Tramview Trailer Park and Palm Valley Trailer Village.

Adenaur to Push Drive for Unity

GENEVA (UP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will lead a new drive for West European unity despite apparent failure of the Geneva conference, high West German officials said today.

Adenauer's immediate aim was said to be a new German-French agreement on the chronically dangerous Saar issue. The Saar has threatened to harm Paris-Bonn relations since the Saarlanders voted October 23 against being "Europeanized."

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay flies to see Adenauer at his home near Bonn tomorrow. They will discuss the Saar issue and at the same time map plans for better Franco-German relations and European unity drive.

INVOLVED IN ACCIDENT

Viola Dora Williams, 54, of 1586 Highway 111, was involved in a non-injury accident yesterday with Jim Newton Wade, 16, of Indio. California Highway reports said Mrs. Williams, driving a 1951 sedan, and Newton, astride a motorcycle, collided Friday morning.

$10 Million Drug Ring from China Believed Broken

MONTREAL (UP)—Canadian and United States investigators today checked the possibility that a 10 million dollar narcotics seizure here may have broken an international crime syndicate with headquarters in Communist China.

A spokesman for detectives in three Canadian and U. S. agencies said such a prospect was "under serious consideration," following the discovery of 31 pounds of pure heroin aboard the French freighter St. Malo here Thursday.

So far, only one man, ship's fireman Robert Bianchi Malverno, 30, of Piang, Vosges, France, has been arrested. He was expected to be arraigned today on an attempted smuggling charge.

Royal Canadian mounted police said other arrests probably would be made here, and possibly in New York when they get enough evidence to make cases against Canadians and Americans for whom the narcotics were bound. They said that might take anywhere from a few days to several months.

It was believed that the heroin was destined for the United States market and originated in Communist China. Police said they had spent several years investigating the illegal drug trade directed from China, which has been exploiting the traffic to build up new markets in North America and obtain hard-to-get dollars.

Substation No. 1 Shows 1100 Per Cent Receipts Increase

Less than two and a half months since Palm Springs Sub station 1 opened for business in Herman Reich's Village Market at Palm Canyon Drive and Ramon Road, receipts have increased more than 1100 per cent.

Mrs. Martha Peeler, who assists Reich in his duties as substation postmaster, said today that receipts for opening day, September 1, were about $70, and for November 8, $800.

Mrs. Peeler, who is working away from home for the first time in her life, is the mother of two schoolgirls, Phyllis, 17, and Ginger, 13. Phyllis is cheerleader at the High School, and Ginger is in the seventh grade at Nellie Coffman. Their father, Col. C. E. Peeler, is Inspector General for Far East Air Force, stationed in Japan.

U.S. to Back UN Patrol if Line Marked

Clearly Defined Israeli-Egyptian Border is Needed

By DONALD J. GONZALES

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States would consider moves to dispatch United Nations border guards to the Middle East if a frontier could be clearly marked between Egypt and Israel, it was disclosed today.

A State Department spokesman said, however, that putting international peace guards in the area under present conditions seemed impractical.

ADLAI E. STEVENSON, 1952 Democratic Presidential candidate, suggested in a speech last night that U.N. guards be posted along the border between Egypt and Israel to insure peace.

The State Department spokesman said that "we are considering all aspects of the problem and this question of U.N. guards conceivably could come within that range." But he said the first step in gaining a cease fire in the Middle East is to get Egyptian and Israeli acceptance of U.N. plans to "clearly delimit and mark the frontier" between the two countries.

"THE IDEA OF HAVING U.N. guards in the area does not seem too practical without such clear delineation and marking," the spokesman said. "Still another factor would be the acceptance by both Israel and Egypt of such a proposal if made."

Officials said many problems would be involved in the border guard idea. They recalled how difficult it was to get a broad international cooperation in the Korean war under the U.N. banner.

Two Dead, Seven Hurt in Accident

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Frank Holguin, 43, and his passenger, Ester Plumlee, 42, both of San Diego, were killed and seven other persons injured today in a head-on crash a mile north of the border.

Hortense Parra, 17, driver of the second car, was taken to the Chula Vista hospital with the others. Her sister, Norma, 16, was in critical condition. The injured are from San Ysidro.

The California Highway Patrol said both cars apparently were to the left of the center line at the time of the accident. There were no skid marks.

Jack Webb, Wife, Consult Lawyers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television detective Jack Webb (Joe Friday) today admitted he and his wife, Dorothy Towne, had each consulted attorneys about "domestic troubles," but that he is hopeful the problems can be worked out.

Webb, commenting on a report that he and his wife will announce a separation within the next few days, said, "Yes, there are some problems. We are trying to work them out."

Molotov Asks Conference with Dulles

Sunday Session Sought by Soviet, Topic Not Known

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent
GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in a surprise move, tonight asked for an extraordinary Sunday meeting with U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The meeting will be held at U.S. delegation headquarters here.

Sunday was scheduled to be a day off for the Big Four Geneva conference, which ended its debate on disarmament this afternoon in deadlock.

There was no indication of what Molotov wanted to talk to Dulles about in their private meeting. His move, however, aroused immediate speculation he might be planning to offer some last-minute concession to the West in the talks scheduled to end next Wednesday.

MOLOTOV'S SURPRISE move came as Communist sources hinted that President Eisenhower's illness has been a factor in the tough attitude taken by the Soviet delegate in the Big Four talks.

These sources intimated Moscow fears the President might take a less active part in affairs of state and there thus might be a change in U.S. policy.

In today's conference plenary session, Molotov proposed that the four powers join in a declaration renouncing the use of force to settle international disputes.

The U.S., British, French and Soviet Foreign Ministers held a final face-saving meeting on disarmament that turned suddenly from bitter verbal slugging to calm and moderation.

THEY ABANDONED FURTHER attempts now to reach an agreement on disarmament but left the door open for further talks.

Molotov, using a more conciliatory tone, repeated that the Soviets "under certain conditions" would accept President Eisenhower's "open sky" proposal for aerial photography and exchange of blueprints.

This was not a new Soviet concession, however. The Soviet Foreign Minister said the same thing in another speech to the conference Thursday.

Molotov also proposed the Big Four should join in a declaration opposing the use of force in settlement of international disputes. Such a declaration, he said, would be desirable to peace and security.

12 Candidates Inducted by Elks at Ceremonies

Twelve candidates were installed as members of the Palm Springs Elks lodge, in impressive ceremonies in the lodge hall presided over by Dr. Clair S. Johnson of Mecca, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler.

Dr. Johnson was at the local lodge on an official visitation.

Candidates installed were: John Hill, Leslie Morgan, Murray Barrick, John Bellford, George Lafayette, John Flint, Sam Javich, Herb Henry, Bill McManus, Pat Crann, John Holmgren and Don Bottorff.

The installation was preceded by a dinner in the lodge dining room.

Abandon Search for Lost Airman

HONOLULU (AP)—The Navy has abandoned its search for Radioman Jerry Caywood of Cincinnati, Ohio, the last of five airmen who parachuted into the ocean from a crippled C-119 Flying Boxcar Wednesday night.

The other four members of the stricken plane's crew were rescued by the Navy seaplane tender USS Floyd Bay Wednesday night and early Thursday.

The intensive sea and air search for Caywood was given up as hopeless yesterday, about 40 hours after the abandoned cargo plane plunged into the sea some 650 miles northeast of here.

Paul Hoffman Definitely Not a Candidate

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., sought today to stifle any move to make him a candidate for the Presidential nomination.

"I am definitely not a candidate for President," Hoffman, a Republican, said in a letter to a South Bend newspaper publisher. He said he wanted only to see President Eisenhower remain in office, and, if that is not possible, to see another man elected who will support Mr. Eisenhower's policies wholeheartedly.

"For such a candidate I will work just as hard as I did in 1952 for the nomination and election of President Eisenhower," said Hoffman, who has a home in Palm Springs.

Rumor Finnegan as Stevenson's Campaign Head

CHICAGO (UP)—James A. Finnegan of Pennsylvania may be named to manage Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, reliable sources said today.

Associates of Stevenson said Finnegan has the "inside track" for the post, which may be filled within the next week. Finnegan, a prominent Philadelphia Democrat, is Pennsylvania secretary of state. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee for president, will announce his 1956 political plans here Tuesday. There is no question in political circles here that he'll seek the presidential nomination.

Appointment of a manager to direct Stevenson's campaign leading to the 1956 Democratic national convention may be announced at a news conference Stevenson has called here Wednesday, it was learned.

Finnegan, 47, described by a leader in the Stevenson camp as "an efficient, clean, professional politician," was said to be a leading candidate for the job as manager for two main reasons.

I'm doffing my hat to the host of men who have put Palm Springs on the map and are continuing to do so insofar as the game of golf is concerned. The only industry that Palm Springs has — an enjoyable one.

At a sit-down dinner with many notables at Thunderbird where golf was really given its impetus here and among those present who have played a major role in bringing national sporting fame to Palm Springs in golf were: Ben Shearer, of O'Donnell; Ellsworth Vines, pro at Tamarisk; Milt Hicks of Thunderbird; Dad French, O'Donnell Club booster; M. O. Anderson, that human dynamo who surmounted obstacles as president at Tamarisk; Jimmy Hines, that gentleman pro at Thunderbird; George Howard, the oldest pro, from a standpoint of continuous service in the area, at O'Donnell; Asher Levy, treasurer of Tamarisk; Edwin Silverman, one of the hardest workers for Tamarisk; Willard Keith, present proxy at Tamarisk, and Fred Karlin presided at Thunderbird, who succeeded Johnny Dawson credited with being the father of golf at the same club. Absent from the scene were a host of others including Frank Bogert, who originally started the dude haven called Thunderbird Ranch.

AND THERE WAS the sage who believes himself to be an epicurean: "If the coup was as warm as the wine and the wine was as old as the turkey what a meal I would have enjoyed. Not here. In Los Angeles!"

Did you ever appraise the infinite love and friendship that exists between two drunken, maudlin bums in a cocktail bar telling each other how great they really are?

Robert W. Peterson is learning something new in life. He is folding those triangle pieces of cloth for baby daughter but somewhere between midnight and dawn it's Marian who arises to feed the baby its formula.

"I wish I could spend more time with the baby at home," was the wistful expression of a father who really and sincerely feels all the pangs of great fatherhood.

And I learned through the grapevine that Thunderbird is toying with the idea of a second 18-hole golf course. And of course, so is Tamarisk. And don't forget, my dear little children, that when and if that bond issue comes up for a municipal golf course — all of us working stiffs who don't know a putter from a tee should turn out en masse and cast an aye vote.

AND THE BIG TIME acts are back in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi and there are some big names who have been booked for a long, long time.

Meet Dorita, if you still have the opportunity, billed in several night spots about town and elsewhere as the "Latin American Bombshell." A hard working gal, highly talented and a good mother. She rocked them during her engagement in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi.

Nina Anderson working herself to a frazzle over the Silver Spur Ball which takes place tonight and the noontime fashion show in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi the same day. Some of the furs that Al Teitelbaum is going to display on live mannequins are expected to bring the ahs and ohs out in volume as will the fashion creations by Dorothy Gray.

Jack Linthicum, out La Paz way, has really done right by the La Paz with that Sable and Spur Room. It envelops one in a great deal of warmth and so does the food as well as them darn cocktails. There will not be a "Gun for Hire" at the Higgins-Ladd Hardware store. All those beautiful things including the guns when they get there will be for sale and for hunting. Sue Carol Ladd is thrilling to the new department she has created in the same place "a corner of beautiful gifts." Drop in and see.

Southland Fires Subdued After Heavy Damage

LOS ANGELES — Fire officials have begun to add up the damage today of two Southern California brush fires which destroyed three homes and numerous ranch buildings.

The county fire department yesterday brought the 3000-acre La Tuna Canyon blaze near Sunland under final control. Fire crews, however, remained on the scene for mopping up operations.

The blaze—believed to have been started Monday by two small boys—destroyed three homes and sent 12 firefighters to the hospital with burns before being corralled Thursday. Gusto winds later fanned another outbreak but a sudden change in the weather aided some 1000 firefighters in halting the fire.

Meanwhile, more than 17,000 acres were blackened in Ventura county as a result of the brush and timber fire in the Hidden Valley area of the Santa Monica Mountains. Coastal fog yesterday helped firemen contain the four-day blaze.

San Bernardino Blaze Controlled

SAN BERNARDINO — Firefighters expected to contain a small brush fire today near the Summit Valley road on the desert side of Cajon Pass.

More than 100 federal, state and county firefighters circled whiplashed flames yesterday. No buildings were in the vicinity.

Plane-Destroyer Crash Kills Five, Five More Hurt

SAN DIEGO — The death toll stood at five today from the spectacular crash of a Navy attack bomber into the Destroyer USS Hopewell during maneuvers 80 miles west of here.

A Douglas Skyraider dived into the 2050-ton ship Friday in a low-level attack during joint United States-Canadian maneuvers. The tragedy resembled "Kamikaze" attacks of World War II in which Japanese pilots deliberately plunged their planes into Navy ships. The dead included the three men aboard the plane and two sailors on the destroyer. Five other sailors on the ship suffered burns. They were flown to San Diego naval hospital by helicopter.

Crockett Shocker

SYDNEY, Australia — The suburban village of Banksia was shocked today by allegations that children in the area have been cutting the tails off cats to make "coonskin" Davy Crockett hats.

PROGRESS OF Palm Springs this past year will be brought up to date by Bob Howard of famed Howard Manor, and Joanne Droste, Miss Palm Springs, to the totals displayed below the directional sign at Southern Pacific depot. Sub-Zero Weather Breaks Seattle Temperature Mark

By UNITED PRESS
A sub-zero cold wave broke all-time records at Seattle, Wash., and spread up to 10 inches of snow across the Rockies and Northern Plains today.

The arctic blast was the first major cold wave of the season. It gripped a vast area from the Pacific Coast to the Dakotas and as far south as Nebraska.

A statewide snow fall turned highways into sheets of ice in Washington and slippery roads were blamed for at least three traffic deaths.

THE FREEZING WINDS were also blamed for the sinking of the 128-foot tuna cutter, Ocean Pride, off the Oregon coast last night. Earlier, a Coast Guard cutter took off the 13-man crew while the ship was bombarded by heavy waves about 30 miles from Cape Lookout.

reading was an all-time Nov. 11 low and the mercury was not expected to rise beyond 15 above today.

Across the Rockies, 10 inches of snow piled up at Fraser, Colo., and temperatures dipped to 11 below zero at Cutbank, Mont., and to 8 below at Great Falls, Mont.

THERE WAS from three to five inches of snow across most of Montana and Wyoming and one to two inches in the Western Dakotas and Nebraska.

The cold wave had been expected to sweep eastward into the Midwest, but the area got a respite when a developing storm in the Texas Panhandle headed it off. Mild weather continued in the midlands and temperatures weren't expected to get nippy until Sunday. At Seattle, yesterday's 20-above

Village's Sign at Depot to be 'Modernized'

While most of the rest of the nation is starting to experience wintry weather, in Palm Springs the chief worry is a correct swimming pool count. That's what Sportsman Bob Howard, owner of famed Howard Manor, and Joanne Droste, Miss Palm Springs, are pictured above getting ready to do at the Southern Pacific railroad depot that serves the desert community.

Early this year Howard and his former movie actress spouse, Andrea Leeds, donated the first directional sign the depot has ever had. It lets formerly confused train travelers know that the desolate area around the station, nine miles distant from the Village, isn't the desert resort town.

Reflecting the phenomenal growth of Palm Springs, Howard will have to change the swimming pool figure from 832 to 896, the population figure from 10,381 to 11,525 and the hotel total from 237 to 253. Only thing Howard isn't changing is the average mean temperature figure, which is still a delightful 82 degrees.

Anna H. Watry Winter Visitor, Taken by Death

Word has been received in the Village of the death in Evanston, Illinois, of the death of Anna Hand Watry at the age of 83. Mrs. Watry for many years was a seasonal guest at the Desert Inn and is well known by many Villagers.

She was active in many civic affairs in the midwest city and prominent socially.

Surviving are two daughters, both Palm Springs Winter residents, Mrs. Preston Higgins and Mrs. Harold Frisch.

Kenneth A. Burkett, owner and operator of Kenny's Koffee Kup, 1107 North Palm Canyon Drive, was released on $250 bail after Tuesday was set as trial date on charges by the State Board of Equalization that he operated his business after his license had been revoked.

Burkett was arraigned Thursday afternoon on a warrant by Anthony V. Terry, of the state board, which said Burkett's license had been revoked September 14 after he failed to file a tax return for May, this year. The warrant also stated that Burkett had failed to pay $363.03 to the board.

Award Night Held Thursday at Youth Center

First of the monthly Award Nights was held Thursday night at the Youth Center building to recognize the champions of the permanent ladder tournaments in ping pong and pool, and to award graduation certificates to those completing the Better Baby Sitters Class.

Lloyd Brubaker, president of the Palm Springs Youth Center, awarded prizes to the winners of the Ping Pong and Pool ladder tournaments as it ended October 31. The winner of both was Arnie Ruiz, with Brent Davis second, and David Fox third. They were awarded money and passes to go to the Plaza theater and passes to the skating rink at the Recreation Center on North Indian Avenue and Radio Road.

Mrs. Joan Coffey, advisor to the Better Baby Sitters class, and Mrs. Annette Freeman, chairman of the Youth Center Committee of the Welfare and Friendly Aid Association, gave out diplomas. The girls completing the course held the last six Wednesday nights at the Youth Center were Carol Clapp, secretary of the Youth Center, Priscilla Gomez, Linda Kendall, Shirley Larkin, Mavis Larkin, Paula Lew, Penny Pagan, Sandra Rose, Helen Remero, Avelina Sanico and Barbara Starrett. The girls have decided to form a Baby Sitters Club, and will hold an organization meeting Wednesday.

A meeting was held of the officers of the Youth Center immediately after the awards. Brubaker presided, with Arnie Ruiz, vice president, Carol Clapp, secretary, Larry W. Paul, treasurer, Mavis Larkin, corresponding secretary and Carl Plate, director, attending.

Program and events, a new constitution, recommendations to the Youth Center Building Committee on the new $50,000 improvements, and many minor subjects were discussed. Brubaker and Paul were appointed to look over the new constitution and make recommendations to the next meeting to be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Movie Poll to Produce New Faces

One of the most interesting features of the National Audience Awards election to be held November 17 to 27, in which the patrons of the Village and Plaza Theaters will participate, is the selection of the most promising new male and female personalities.

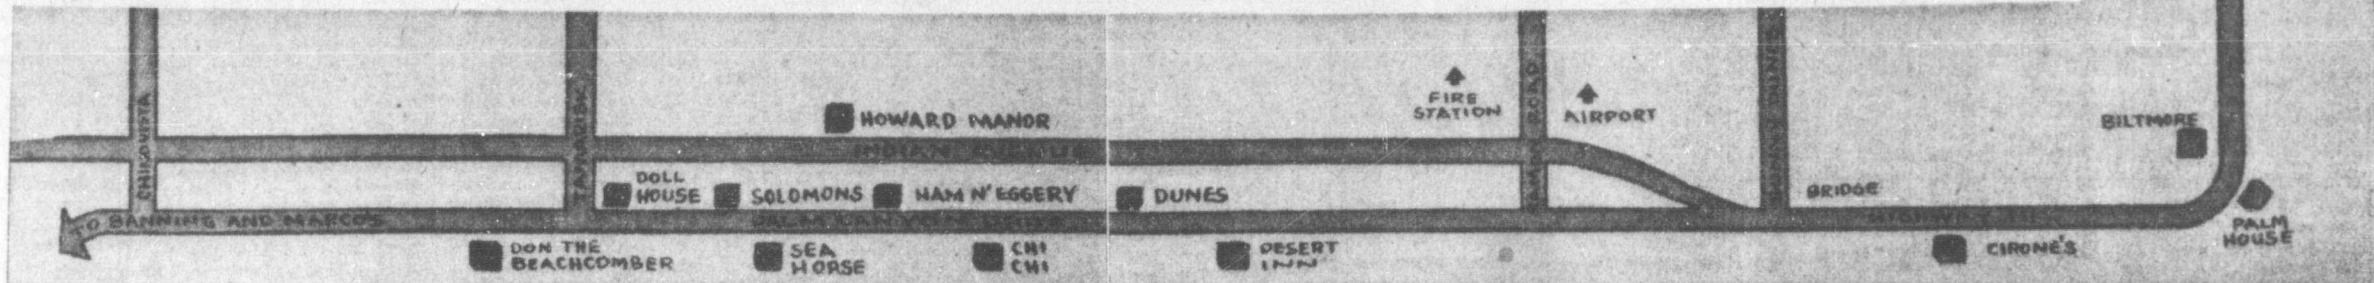

Thousands of aspiring actors and actresses storm the Hollywood studios each year for tests.

Relatively few are signed to contracts. Only a small percentage of these reach stardom. High cost of current film productions makes directors reluctant to cast new faces in stellar roles because of the uncertainty of their acceptance by the public. This audience election, Earl Strebe, owner, said, will give directors a clear-cut indication of what new persons have public appeal.

Thank You

Palm Springs today is thankful. Thankful to Judge Hilton H. McCabe and to the County Probation Department for refusing leniency to Michael Elizabeth Miers for her role in the brutal slaying and robbery of Donald E. "Dutch" Graham.

We are not a vindictive people, but we do believe that the full sentence as designated by law was the only logical conclusion to a case which previously had seen only weakness on the part of the prosecution.

Leniency has already been accorded Mrs. Miers, as well as her husband, by the acceptance by the district attorney of a compromise plea to lesser charges than first degree murder and robbery.

Justice yesterday was the only logical conclusion to the sordid case.

And justice was administered, thanks to Judge McCabe and County Probation officials.

ISSUES OF 1956 — An inkling of what some of the issues will be in next year's presidential campaign was revealed by Congressman John Phillips in his talk before the Rotary club here this week. The Republicans will be attacked over their farm policy but they will claim it is not their fault that the farmers have not enjoyed the prosperity along with most other groups during the past two years. As Congressman Phillips pointed out, one way to make the farmers more prosperous is to keep pouring money into price supports and building up high surpluses. He says it is more sensible to apply the price support program in a more intelligent way by disposing of as well as buying surpluses. He gave the past three years as an example:

	SURPLUS BOUGHT	DISPOSED OF
1953	$ 333,000,000	$ 520,000,000
1954	963,000,000	1,424,000,000
1955	1,300,000,000	2,115,000,000

The Republicans believe, as Phillips said, that "it is better to help a person work it out than to take it to him in a bucket."

Some of the other accomplishments which the Republicans will point to, as indicated by our own Republican Congressman, are:

The re-establishment of integrity in Washington; the almost complete elimination of corruption in the Federal government; doing an honest job.

This administration has done away with a lot of jobs in the Federal government — by just not filling them. There is a 25 per cent turn-over every year.

Not much trouble with Communists in government recently — lots of them have been deported. They know they are not welcome. Phillips says: "Pest control is not witch hunting."

While still dangerous, inflation has been checked and the cost of living stabilized.

Employment is at an all-time high with 65 million in jobs — and wages are up also. The nation is enjoying prosperity.

On the other hand the Democrats are going to criticize the farm program, foreign policy — and claim that Congress has been accomplishing very little. They know that people forget pretty quickly and will try to keep them from recalling anything about conditions in Washington under the previous Democratic administrations.

These are only a few predictions of the campaign issues of 1956. But the Republicans have one big advantage — prosperity! They can steal the "You never had it so good" slogan that the Democrats used with success several times.

Only twice in history have the people voted out an administration in prosperous times.

Sandersville, Ga., Progress — "Some merchants think they have to do something offensive before they will lose a customer. Taint so according to the National Retail Grocers Association. Of every 100 customers put on the books of any store in any one year . . . only 19 of the original customers remained after 10 years . . . Merchants who believe 'everyone knows where my store is' might ponder these figures and seek more new customers through planned newspaper advertising in the home town newspaper."

Protocol By-Pass — We rise to question reluctantly the protocol of Honey-Bear Warren's elopement.

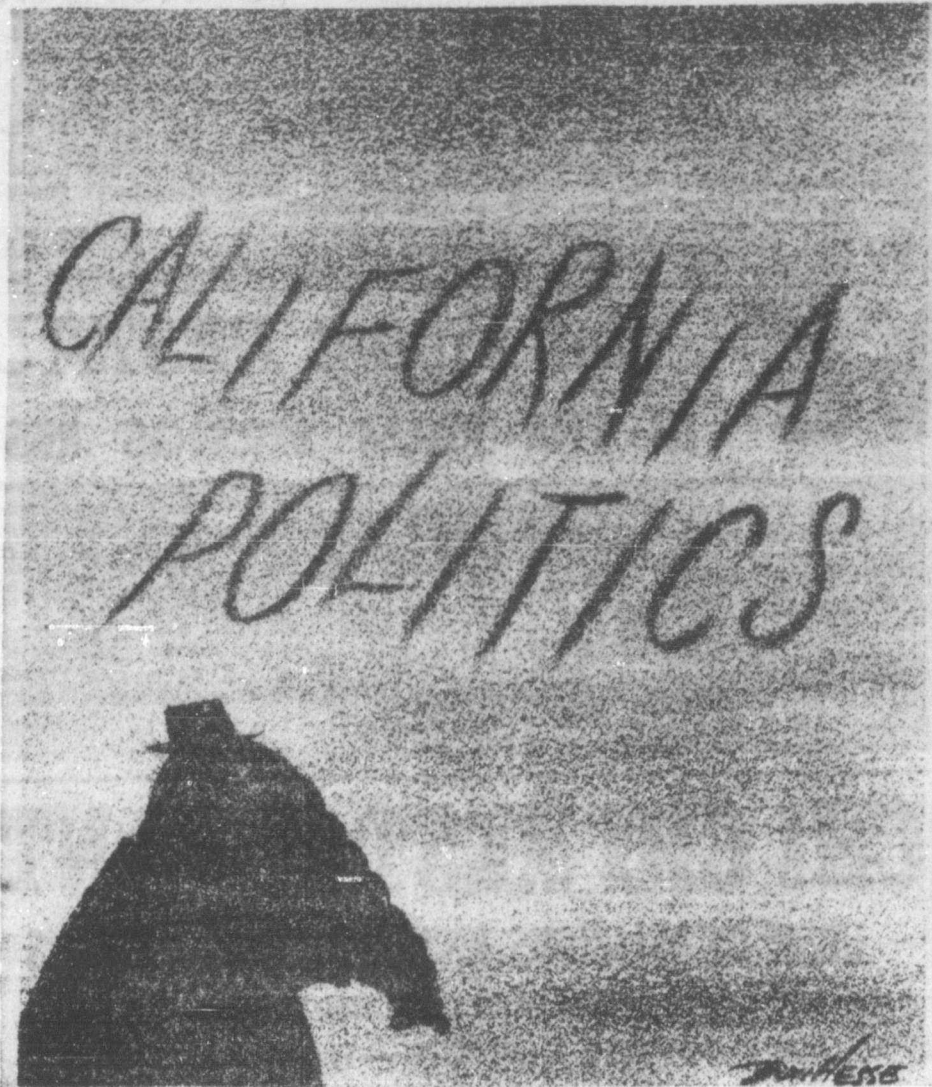

Here was a chance for a nationally-esteemed, eye-filling wow to wow the populace with a humdrum wedding. Here was a chance to throw the churches some real business by inspiring every betrothed American girl to needle her old man into shooting the works for her, too.

Moreover, here was a chance to get Dad some of the human-interest publicity he hasn't had since he was exiled to the frigidity of the United States Supreme Court. Once a politician, always an appetite for that sort of thing, you know, secret or not. And here was a chance to show she was duly overawed by the top-most branch of American jurisprudence.

But Honey-Bear gave the phht-t to fanfare, eloped like any average, thrifty girl, and told Dad about it later.

We have a feeling it will give the whole genre of fatherhood a lift to learn that while Earl Warren may be the top dog in the Supreme Court, at home he is just another average Dad — adored but ignored.

And on to Cabazon
The boys will mush,
Hoping to fill an
Inside straight fluss.

(And some of the girls will join the trek.)

You might amplify on that with the statement with the addenda that they'll carry banners: "Cabazon or (and) bust."

BUT THAT POKER up there around the bend of Highway 99 will be strictly a business proposition. It will be the grim business of just poker, trying to draw and fill and beat the house. There'll be none of the pleasantries and eccentricities of the living-room brand of poker between friends; that is, before the first deal. There'll be no dauces wild, or any other card or cards the dealer, in dealer's choice, desires to make it. There'll be no seven-toed Pete, as it is called here. The same game they call Cyclone up in the citrus area. Or Twin Beds, a delightful game, in which two rows of five cards are laid on the table face down and the players seek to fit them into their own hands as they are flopped. That's generally played high and low and the squeals of delight come when a player is able to produce an ultimate low on one side and a high on the other and rake in the entire pot.

AND, I PRESUME, there'll be no "Spit in the Ocean," or, as it is called in the more arid regions, "Expectorate in the Wash," meaning, not the laundry, but the arroya. And, at Cabazon, another great privilege of hometown poker will be lost. Will they let you go "shy"? Hope springs eternal in the human breast so they'll probably have plenty of customers who will draw in the hopes of filling something. But that business-like kind of poker isn't the fun of the gooly game as played by husbands and wives with friends of the same category. Just think of the ties for the pot when the dealer indicates all clubs are wild! Anything less than a Royal Flush (please put that in capitals, Mr. Operator. I had one once without a wild card) isn't worth considering.

A. J. VEGLIA of Sacramento, is called the father of S-D Day. He's the man who first thought up the idea of Safe Driving Day, to be observed this year on December 1. He said he believes that there will be at least a 25 per cent reduction of traffic accidents this year on December 1. Last year, the first observance of S-D Day saw an 18 per cent slash in accidents. But there is one thing I don't understand. Backers of the Day urge motorists to concentrate on their driving to reduce accidents. And then they say they are going to erect billboards along the highways, calling the drivers' attention to the Day. Now, how can a motorist concentrate on driving if he is looking at billboards alongside the road? And speaking of traffic—Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue are loaded now. What will this new downtown Tram do?

CHARLEY CHAPLIN, quoted by a Leftist newspaper, says he'll never return to the United States. Said he "I never really felt a part of America although I lived there so long." I'm sure he felt a large part of America—those beautiful green oblong pieces.

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK — We used to kid the movies about being illogical — but now TV has converted a beauty from Flatbush, Brooklyn, into a cowgirl.

Miss Jackie Loughrey made the jump from subway-riding to range-riding. Not long ago, Jackie was a model, toting her hatbox as she swung swivel-hipped through wild and woolly Manhattan shooting down wolves and fresh guys with a fiery glance or sharp word.

No Flatbush Floozie, Jackie'd gone to the St. Francis Xavier Academy for Young Ladies, and everywhere she and her 21-inch waist and pretty legs were highly spoken of.

"I'd never ridden a horse in my life," says Jackie.

"After all, we don't have a lot of broncos back where I come from in Brooklyn, U.S.A."

Then Jackie happened to win the "Miss United States" title for '53 at Long Beach.

There came a picture contract and a husband, Guy Mitchell, the singer — and Jackie eventually gave up both — and then she was asked to play a cowgirl in a filmed TV series, called "Judge Roy Bean."

"The first day I took a lesson in riding, I fell right on my head," Jackie says.

"I have a double for the tough parts," adds Jackie. "She fell on her head, too, and went to the hospital."

Maybe the horses resented cowgirls from Brooklyn.

Jackie's an 1870s cowgirl living in Texas in the series. That was before cowboys did their cowpunching by Cadillac.

"I wear a pistol down at the bottom of my pantaloons in a holster," Jackie relates. "The pantaloons stretch all the way to my insteps. Of course, in time of an emergency, I pull my whole dress up and fire!"

And with the ballooning pantaloons showing, of course, that's a sexy sight.

Jackie was back in Brooklyn recently telling her Flatbush friends about "Judge Roy Bean."

He was a storekeeper in Langtry, Texas, who set himself up as a one-man court, as "the law west of Pecos."

He's played by Edgar Buchanan, and Jackie's his niece, Jack Beutel and Russell Hayden help the Brooklyn cowgal mess up the western landscape with bodies and things.

To keep everything western, I had Jackie tell me about it at my wild west apartment — over on Wild West End Avenue.

"We film it at Pionertown, Cal., a town with about nine people, 35 miles from Palm Springs," says Jackie.

Jackie's also in several upcoming movies, including RKO's "Tennessee's Partner," which comes to the Palace. Though she's been around for some time, only once has a producer — and that one was a "so-called producer" — tried to get fresh. He was a New Yorker who never got anywhere in his profession.

"My parents kept a good watch over me," says Jackie. "I was going to go into the Copacabana chorus when I was 17, but they wouldn't let me. They didn't approve of me coming home to Brooklyn at 4 o'clock in the morning."

After all, these Brooklyn subway cowboys are pretty wild and woolly, too.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . . "DON'T PRINT THAT!": Marlene Dietrich rejected the lead in Columbia Pictures' "Pal Joey," so studio execs wouldn't let their wardrobe dept. help with her cafe costumes. Marlene sewed on the beads and feathers herself . . . A famed actress, about to be scorching by a scandal magazine, asked the editors one favor — to use flattering pictures of her.

The crew of Warner Bros. "Serenade," most of whom got sick on location in Mexico, call their stomach ailment "Montezuma's Revenge" . . . Sheila Bond and Stubby Kaye are filming a TV pilot, "The Gopher" . . . "Professional Imposter" Albert Carlos, who appears at movie premieres masquerading as royalty, is back in town, ready to plague film press agents some more.

Stripper Lee Sharon's being paged for the musical, "Diz Mule Be the Place" . . . Daily Double: Choreographer Bob Alton and Louise Paget at The Spindletop . . . Hollywood cops stopped Mervyn Le Roy's $11,000 Lincoln Continental and explained, "We know you weren't speeding—we just wanted to look at the car" . . . B'way veteran Don De Leo was signed for "The Amazing Adele" . . . Mort Siegel, formerly of RKO, was named to head Sol Lesser's foreign operations dept.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Many a woman with an old hat on her head has a new hat on her mind." —Frances Rodman.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "The man who didn't want his wife to work has been succeeded by the man who asks about her chance of getting a raise." —Imogene Fey. "With females wearing so many petticoats," says Jean Barden, "you can change that saying to 'There's many a slip 'twixt the skirt and the hip.'" That's Earl brother. Robert S. Allen

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — President and Mrs. Eisenhower are making no secret to intimates that the momentous question of his running for a second term is very much on their minds.

They are talking frankly and revealingly about it.

The President is pointedly discussing his heart condition as a possible barrier to seeking reelection next year. He is not expressly saying he won't do that. The President is carefully avoiding commitments one way or the other. But he is stressing that he may not be physically able to carry the tremendous White House burdens for another four years.

The cabinet members and other close associates to whom the President has told this are attaching varying significance to it. Some think the President is tactfully preparing them for bowing out. Others feel he is still weighing the matter, and won't decide until he gets the final word on his heart several months hence.

Mrs. Eisenhower is making it clear that when that fateful time comes she is leaving the decision entirely up to her husband.

The First Lady is telling confidants that she proposes to keep hands off; that she has expressed no opinion so far, and does not intend to do so in the future. She is giving the President a completely free hand to make up his own mind.

"I have never stood in Ike's way on anything he has wanted to do," Mrs. Eisenhower told an old friend, "and I won't do it on this matter. He will do what is best for the country and everyone."

Top White House assistant Sherman Adams has related Mrs. Eisenhower's comments to key Republican leaders.

He is also expressing belief that by February the President will have sufficiently recovered to run again — if he wants to. Adams is not indicating any source for this view. But in several instances, he has genially offered to make small bets on it.

mittie man from Kansas, for the GOP nomination if President Eisenhower doesn't run . . . When vigorously boosted by former Senator Harry Darby, National Coming from his heart attack is being as intensely followed at the Geneva conference as in the U.S.

Foremost in evincing such interest is Molotov.

Secretary Dulles, in a private report, states, "Molotov seems as concerned about the President's recovery as any item on the conference agenda."

This in a publication titled "Geneva Conference Guidance" which is being sent to U.S. embassies throughout the world. Much of the document was dictated personally by Dulles. Its purpose is to advise American diplomats on what is transpiring at Geneva, and interpretations to be given it.

POLITICALS — Treasury Secretary George Humphrey is being

Tammany boss DeSapio asked one of his district leaders why he wasn't more active for Governor Harriman, the reply was, "Too many of my people are paths for Stevenson." Demanded DeSapio, "What do you mean, paths?" Exclaimed the district leader, "Pathological. They're insisting on Stevenson, dead or alive." . . . The National Republican Club of New York City, which raised a lot of money for the 1952 campaign, will look over a number of presidential possibilities in the coming months. Scheduled to speak before the powerful organization are Governors Christian Herter, Massachusetts; William Stratton, Illinois; Joseph Johnson, Vermont; Robert Smylie, Idaho; George Craig, Indiana; Leo Hoegh, Iowa; Fred Hall, Kansas; and Theodore McKeldin, Maryland. DANNY KAYE comes up with a story about a friend named Nussbaum who took it into his head to go to the Malay Peninsula to hunt tigers. When he came back, a friend demanded, "What is a nice, well-brought up fellow like you doing risking his life with tigers yet?"

"You don't understand," said Nussbaum loftily. "This was a safari to end all safaris! There is no thrill like stalking through the jungle, knowing that a great, man-eating tiger may leap at you any minute."

"Nu," said the friend, "how many tigers did you kill?" "None," admitted Nussbaum. "The safari was a failure then?" persisted the friend.

"Of course not," maintained Nussbaum. "It was a big success for me. When you're hunting tigers none is plenty."

ELENA VERDUGO, star of the Meet Millie television show, was one of the featured performers at the Friday night show of the show from Ramon Trailer Park, where she is visiting a long-time friend, Mrs. Hazel Critchlow. Another show will be presented tonight, with Gene Austin, whose "My Blue Heaven" sold over 6,000,000 records, and Bert Wheeler among the noted performers scheduled to appear.

Confusion Hits Brister, Marines in Truck Mixup

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Jimmy Brister of Brister's Service Station, was confused the other day—but not any more so than a number of other people.

Seems Jimmy received a call to take gas to a stranded Navy truck on the 29 Palms Highway. Before taking it out, he called the 29 Palms Marine Base and received an order from Major Anderson there.

With this authorization, he found the truck but the sergeant in charge had left for the Marine Base. With the corporal on duty, who could not drive the truck but did drive Jimmy's car, Jimmy drove the truck back to his garage here in DHS.

In the meantime, the sergeant returns, finds no truck and reports it stolen. With the Indio, Banning and Palm Springs' sheriff's officers on the job, police cars rolled into Desert Hot Springs, located the truck and proceeded to try to arrest the corporal, patiently waiting in the truck, as the culprit who stole it.

Jimmy came to the rescue, explained the situation and told the officers he was the person who drove the truck over but with the authorization of Major Anderson of the Marine Base.

The whole story had a happy ending, for Jimmy, the corporal and the truck but probably not so for the sergeant who left his post and caused all the confusion.

LIONS BENEFIT DINNER TO BE STAGED TONIGHT

CATHEDRAL CITY — Tonight's the night for the Lions Club Benefit dinner which will start at 6:30 in the parking lot of the Cathedral City Grocery.

The dinner, which will be followed by entertainment from some of the Palm Springs night clubs, will be a benefit to raise funds for three projects of the local Lions, the milk fund, sight conservation, and support of the local Boy Scout troop.

Robert Cordes, president of the Lions Club, and Ray Cook, chairman of the ticket committee, reported that the sales are coming along very well, and hope that even some of the people in this area who haven't been contacted will "come on down."

PALM DESERT

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

There have been several interesting golf personalities visiting in this area during the last ten days. Percy Widdes, an English golfer who spent thirty-five years in the Orient and who now lives in Victoria was one of them. Also seen about was Johnnie Rivotta, a top-ranking golfer from Chicago—in fact, he has been a pro in that city for fifteen years. He was the guest of George and Georgie Payne, recently of Pebble Beach but now living in the desert. Mr. Rivotta is now residing in Oregon. As he came south, he stopped in Pebble Beach hoping to bring the Paynes south with him for the Ryder Cup Matches — and found they had moved down here.

The Pan-Hellenic Association held its first monthly meeting of the season Thursday at Shadow Mountain Club. It was a luncheon meeting and very well attended.

Navy Asks for Withdrawal of 449,000 Acres

TWENTYNINE PALMS—The U. S. Navy has asked the Department of Interior to withdraw from public use some 449,000 acres of Federal land north of here, it was learned this week.

The Navy wants to use the land for an artillery range and an air support training area by the Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

The Department of Interior said that the Navy wants the land withdrawn from all forms of appropriation, including grazing, mining, and mineral leasing.

They said they would determine later if a public hearing would be held. Objections in writing can be sent to Bureau of Land Management at Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dixon and daughter of Hollywood spent several days in their Sun lodge.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Van Wagoner are new members of the Sun Lodge Colony. They live in No. 6, formerly owned by Mrs. Reta Deaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kapp entertained a group of friends last Sunday evening with a buffet supper, followed by a musical program. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright, of Palm Springs, and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Terry Mann of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cheeseman.

HAROLD "HAL" KANE, advertising manager of the Desert Hot Springs Sentinel and Velina Tatu of Van Nuys were married this weekend in Our Lady of Peace church in Sepulveda. The couple are now in their home in Desert Hot Springs at 66-071 Buena Vista street.

Peterson Warns Public Must Act Fast in a Raid

CHICAGO UP)—Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson warned today that doctors will have no time for a kindly bedside manner if an atomic bomb strikes. Residents of a city under atomic bombardment will have only two choices, "stay and die or move out and survive," he said. "No ambulance may ever arrive, wounds which do not immediately endanger the patient's life will get only summary first aid treatment, and dying patients may get no care at all other than sedation," he said.

Peterson, speaking before a Civil Defense conference of County Medical Society representatives, said the potential load on medical personnel is already too great. "No matter how well we lay our plans to prevent casualties," he said, "nuclear attack on this nation would result in more casualties than we could properly handle. The best we will ever be able to do is to make the most efficient use of the facilities and personnel we have available."

Peterson told the physicians at the sixth annual conference, sponsored by the American Medical Association, that everyone's attitude toward casualty care must be revised.

Pens for Affection Jail Six

HOLLYWOOD UP)—Five girls and one man were arrested today by vice officers who said they purchased ball point pens for $20 to gain "affectionate consideration" from the girls.

Officers said they were admitted to two plush two-bedroom apartments and were told they would have to buy the pens for $20 and then were sent to separate bedrooms where they were asked for more money.

Three of the suspects were held on narcotics charges after barbiturates were found, including Bunny Breen, 31, who allegedly ordered the apartments, her husband, James, 28, and Beverly Grant, 26. Booked on visiting a place of prostitution was Lisa Mason, 22.

Stevenson Plan for UN Patrol Meets Disfavor

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON UP)—Officials indicated today that the United States would support only as a last resort Adlai Stevenson's suggestion that an international police force step into the Egyptian-Israeli crisis.

Officials said the government might look into the pros and cons of Stevenson's suggestion if the Middle East situation worsens. But they said no active consideration would be given to it now. They recalled how difficult it was to get broad international participation in the Korean War and the heavy American casualty list that resulted.

Stevenson proposed in a Charlottesville, Va., speech last night that "United Nations guards" patrol the trouble-ridden Egyptian-Israeli border. The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said the possibility of war in the Middle East was a sign of "the disintegration of our whole security system."

Diplomats saw the Stevenson speech as a warning that foreign policy was going to figure prominently in the 1956 political campaign. But they were more worried about the problem of the moment — the Egyptian-Israeli fighting.

Hope Says He'll Seek Russ Visa

HOLLYWOOD UP)—Comedian Bob Hope said today he will apply to the Soviet Embassy by mail on Monday for permission to visit Russia while he is in Europe this winter to film parts of his television show.

Hope said he already had received the approval of the State Department for the visit to Russia, but still needs the approval of the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

The comedian did not disclose why he wants to visit the Soviet Union.

Dr. James H. Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Community Church of Palm Springs, is commencing a series of sermons this week on questions Jesus asked. This Sunday he will use as his subject "What shall a man profit if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

The Chancel Choir under the direction of Elmer Young will present special music. There are duplicate worship services at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. The Sunday School meets at 9:30 a.m. with classes for all age groups. The adult classes have combined and are meeting with Rev. 'Mortals and Immortals' to be Lesson-Sermon

That all may find their heritage as children of God is emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mortals and Immortals" given in the Christian Science churches Sunday. The Golden Text is from Romans (8:9), "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

Paul says in his epistle to the Galatians, after explaining the difference between a servant and a son, "Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (4:7).

"The real man is spiritual and immortal, but the mortal and imperfect so-called 'children of men' are counterfeiters from the beginning, to be laid aside for the pure reality" reads a correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. (p. 408).

CONFIDENT LIVING

By Norman Vincent Peale

How One Woman Met a Marriage Crisis

What advice would you give to a young wife who discovered that her absent husband was living with another woman? Such unhappy situations are presented frequently to those who try to help in human problems.

"His young woman, wife of an American soldier, told me that a few years ago her husband had been sent to serve in Germany. A year later, when she was permitted to join him there, she flew to Germany filled with happy anticipation at the thought of seeing her husband again.

What she found there, however, rudely destroyed this dream. Her husband had been living with a German girl. The shock of this discovery broke her health. Eventually, unable to tolerate the situation in which she had been placed, she returned to the States and slowly began to regain her health.

In the meantime, it seems that her husband's way of life in Germany made him the center of a scandal, as the result of which he was sent back home in disgrace. He asked his wife to take him back and she agreed, though not without painful self-struggle and with many misgivings.

Sometime later, he received a letter from the German girl in which she said she had made arrangements to follow him to the States. He showed the letter to his wife.

"What am I to do?" was the question she asked of me. Some might answer that such a situation is more than flesh and blood can take. With that feeling I am in full sympathy, but we are more than flesh and blood. We are children of God to whom are offered insight and strength of a spiritual nature.

"You married your husband for better or for worse," I reminded her, "and this is the worse. But that does not mean that you ought to run away from this problem, but rather to meet it creatively." And the creative approach as outlined was first to acquire through prayer and right thinking a controlled emotional reaction. That is not easy, of course, but then the mastery of a deep human crisis never comes easy. But self-control can be achieved, and mental quietness is vital to the solution of any problem, for we must think coolly and rationally. So many people "think" with their emotions rather than with their intellects. This accounts, no doubt for the many wrong decisions

All Brahms Program Sunday to Feature Greatest Works

The All-Brahms program which opens the 1955-56 season of the Palm Springs Civic Chorus will feature choral works whose poetic settings are worthy of particular mention. The concert will be sung at the Jewish Community Center, 332 Alejo Road, at 8:15 p.m., Sunday, under the direction of Harry Tomlinson with Christine Tomlinson playing the piano accompaniment.

Some of the finest German poets are represented in the texts: Holderlin, Schiller and Goethe. Great laments concerning human destiny inspire the words of Holderlin's Schicksalied, Schiller's Nanie and the Alto Rhapsody from Goethe's Harzreise in Winter.

HOLDERLIN'S POEM opens with a description of the blest immortals, and closes with the despair of mankind. This cheerless conclusion was a repugnant to Brahms, greatly as the wonderful poem may have attracted him by its forceful expression and beautiful diction. He repeats the orchestral prelude at the end of the work thus closing on a note of reconciliation.

'Stephen's Faith' to be Sermon

"Stephen's Faith — a Faith for Our Day" will be the sermon topic Sunday of the Rev. LeRoy Hass at the morning worship service of Our Savior's Evangelical Lutheran Church at 10:30 a.m. at the American Legion hall, 400 North Belardo Road.

Sunday school and Adult Bible class will meet at 9:15 a.m. The Sunday school children will start their preparation for the Christmas program. The Adult Bible class has begun the study of St. Paul's missionary journeys and his methods.

Every Monday evening, a class in the basic doctrines of Scripture is held at the pastor's home at 1540 Mel Avenue, starting at 7:30 p.m.

DANCE-ME-ROUND-DOLLS In the toy department of the new Higgins-Ladd hardware store is one of the particular specialties obtained by Sue Carroll Ladd, wife of Alan Ladd. They are 42 inches high, and look like Pinocchio. In dancing the doll around, a child attaches the doll's feet to her own and then they're off for a waltz, two-step or what have you. In addition to this novelty, Mrs. Ladd has stocked the toy department with every imaginable plaything a child would cherish for Christmas. The new Higgins-Ladd hardware store opened at 12 o'clock today.

Science of Mind Course Planned

An introductory course in the Science of Mind will be conducted by Dr. Irma Glen, minister of the Church of Religious Science, on Thursday evenings from November 10 through December 22, with the exception of November 24, at the home of the minister, 1110 Buena Vista Drive.

The regular service is held each Sunday at El Paseo Theatre at 10:45 a.m. "It is the purpose of this introductory course to provide specific techniques of effective prayer that will enable the Truth student to constructively apply the laws of life for his own self improvement and the happiness of others," according to Dr. Glen.

Members of Los Compadres riding club had a taste of old times when they called for a midweek ride at 4 p.m. Wednesday to start a series of pop rides. With very little preparation, the group met at the clubhouse and rode to the Hutch Moseley home for refreshments, then back to the trail, ending the ride.

Those who rode on this first venture were Bud and Helen Kinneman, Joe and Alice Butler, Bob and Annamaria Weismann, Bill Moseley, Dottie Higgins, Lynn Davidson, Cleo Christian and Capt. and Mrs. L. T. Kinkead. The latter two are from Riverside where he is a member of the police department.

As a club member said, "This was our first attempt at an impromptu ride and it was loads of fun. Hope when the next one is called more will be on hand to participate."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hathaway have her sister, Mrs. Alna Becker, as house guest. Mrs. Becker lives in Fort Wayne, Indiana and will be with the Hathaways through Thanksgiving.

Langfords Return from Kansas Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby V. Langford returned to the Village this week after spending three weeks visiting with relatives in Kansas City.

At present the Langfords are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Spire and daughter, Mary Katherine as their house guests. Mr. Spire is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Sunny Vale. The visitors plan a week of sightseeing around Palm Springs and the mountains.

Musician Nephew Visits Patanes

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Patane of 68-611 B Street, Cathedral City, had their nephew, Bob Caudle of Los Angeles, visiting for a few days this week. Bob Caudle is an accomplished trombonist and is the leader of a 17-piece band. At present he is booked in and around Los Angeles and on December 3 will play at the Beverly Hilton for a University of Southern California function. The amazing thing about Bob is that he is only 20 years old.

ROLLS FOR THE THANKSGIVING SEASON

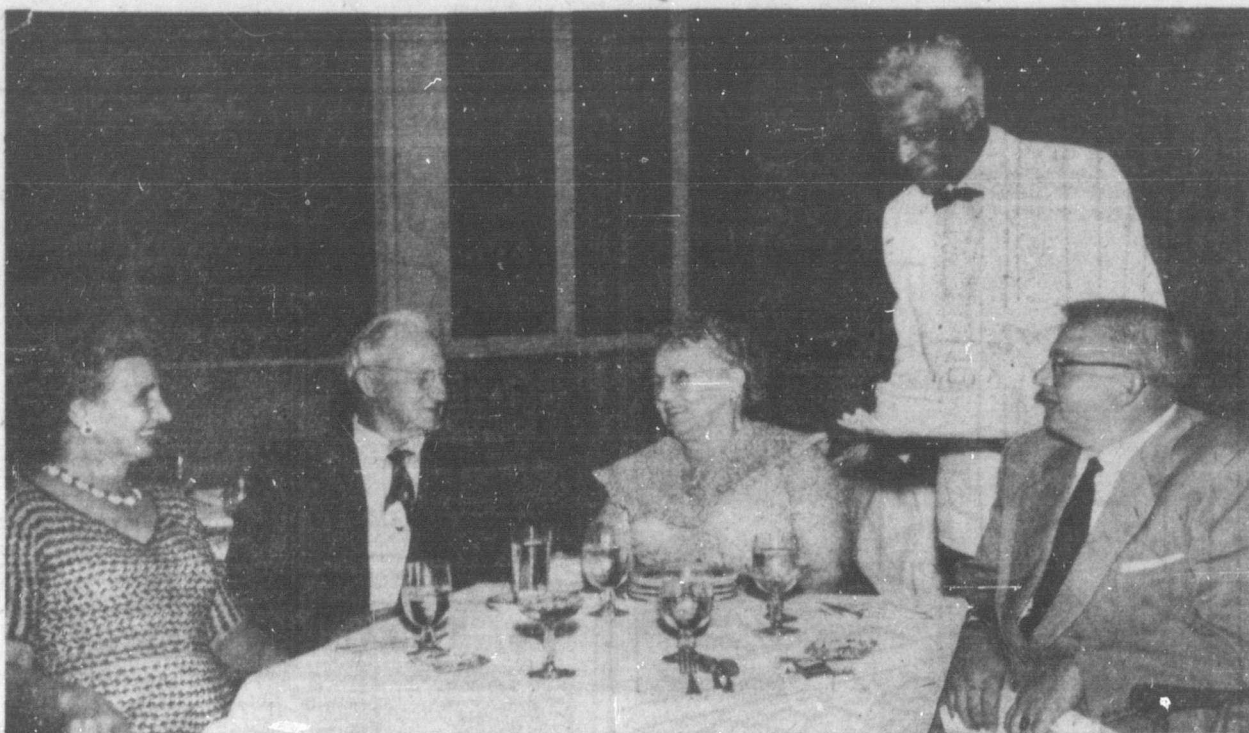

The gobbler looks approvingly at yeast-raised yam rolls that fit in so tastefully with the Thanksgiving season. If you want to use these golden puffs for an accompaniment for a heavy dinner, cut them in even smaller rounds than called for in the recipe. For a sweet roll to serve between meals be sure to fill them with plump raisins.

LOUISIANA YAM DINNER ROLLS
(Makes about 4 dozen small rolls)

- 2 1/2 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
- 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
- 1 tablespoon softened shortening
- 1 No. 2 can Louisiana yams, drained and mashed
- 3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup raisins (optional)
- Melted butter or margarine

Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Stir in sugar and salt. Crumble or sprinkle in yeast and stir until dissolved. Add shortening and yams and mix until thoroughly blended. Combine flour and raisins. Add flour mixture to yeast mixture in two additions, mixing until blended after each addition. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead about 5 minutes, or until dough is smooth and elastic and does not stick to board. Place in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Punch down and pull edges to center; turn completely over in bowl. Let rise again until almost double in bulk, 30 to 45 minutes. Turn dough out on lightly floured surface; cover with cloth and let stand 15 minutes. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness and cut with floured 2-inch round cutter. Brush with butter or margarine. Place about 1 inch apart on lightly greased baking sheets. Cover and let rise 15 minutes. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 12 minutes, or until golden brown.

LONG GLOVES RETURN IN ALL LENGTHS

NEW YORK, (UP) — Long gloves, which practically disappeared from the fashion scenes in favor of the shortie, have returned. And in all lengths.

The range for daytime wear is from just above the wrist on to the elbow, with the mid-arm length destined to be the most popular. Charles Kovar, stylist for Julius Kyser & Co., said the new look in sleeves is responsible for revival of longer gloves.

"Sleeves are shorter — most suits now have the bracelet instead of the full length sleeve," he said. "Longer gloves are a must—otherwise there's a lot of skin exposed."

Kovar suggested two ways to wear the longer gloves—either rippled just above the wrist with the bracelet length sleeves, or smoothed out of their entire length when worn with shorter sleeves.

Observe 55th Anniversary on Their Son's Birthday

Winter residents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Cummings of Ashland, Massachusetts, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Thursday evening, when they dined at La Paz. It was the eighth time they have observed an anniversary in Palm Springs.

Dining with them in the smart new Spur and Sable Room, was their son George Cummings and his wife of 1420 Alejo Road, George who operates an aircraft shop on Indian avenue, was celebrating his birthday.

The senior Cummings, who are visiting their son and his wife, have nine children, 19 grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren.

With a daughter in Bakersfield, another daughter in Buffalo, New York and their son George in Palm Springs, they say, "We are so busy traveling between the family that we haven't time to grow old."

Topping off the festive anniversary-birthday dinner was the lighted cake brought in by Maitre d' Frank.

BOOKS

By UNITED PRESS

Family recollections in book form can induce yawns but once in awhile the story is worth the telling. Such is the case with "Papa Married a Mormon" (Prentice Hall). John D. Fitzgerald's parents were married in Utah Territory in the 1890's when Mormons and "gentiles" (non-Mormons) were living unharmoniously in the rapidly growing West with its brawling miners, prospector, gambling saloons, gunmen, "fallen women" and last but not least the hard-working families who grew and developed the country. Into this environment were born the four Fitzgerald children, three boys and a girl. Their adventures interwoven with the lives of their Catholic father, Mormon mother, agnostic uncle and the Mormon community are told with deep nostalgia by John Fitzgerald. Although the sentiment becomes sticky at times, and the characters seem unreal, mainly because of the stilted conversation they are made to utter, the story is interesting and unusual. Religious intolerance reared its ugly head, naturally, but Papa and Mama were too much in love to let their family be contaminated, and handled every crisis with rare understanding . . .

It is a rare person who possesses at once the temperament to seek adventure, the discernment to recognize the amusing and the interesting in the routine of life, and the talent to tell about it. It is rarer still for two persons of this kind to find one another in marriage.

One such couple is Post Wheeler the sometime scholar, newspaperman and Klondike sardough who became America's first career diplomat; and Hallie Erminie Rives the novelist he met in New York, managed in Europe and married in Tokyo.

"Dome of Many-Coloured Glass (Doubleday) is their joint autobiography, written in alternate chapters by the two subjects. They have led long, full lives, and it is a long, full book—but not one you will find it easy to lay down.

It combines intimate glimpses of the courts of Europe and the Orient in the last days of real royalty and a scathing indictment of State Department intrigue with informal vignettes of the lives of two well-bred citizens of the world over a span of six decades.

Samuel Johnson, the greatest literary figure of his time, was long overshadowed by the biography which James Boswell wrote about him.

But though he died in 1794, his name still lives and in recent years there have been many new books about him and his works. It is reported that a complete edition of his works is to be published.

The latest work about the man who, struggling against poverty most of his life and illness all of it, won fame as a poet, essayist, lexicographer, novelist, playwright and conversationalist is by Walter Jackson-Bates, associate professor of English at Harvard.

"The Achievement of Samuel Johnson" (Oxford) is a scholarly analysis of Johnson's work and his personality, his humanity, his deep religious devotion, his obsessive dread of insanity and of death. It is a valuable addition to the still meager list of books about a great and good man . . .

Indians Defeat Beaumont Hi 20 to 0

Cunningham Scores Two, Reyes Once

Alert Redskins Blank Cougars to Win Third

The Palm Springs Indians notched their third straight victory by downing the hapless Beaumont Cougars 20 to 0 last night on the muddy Cougar field. The Indian win coupled with the San Jacinto-Elsinore tie Thursday night put Palm Springs a half game out of third place in the Riverside County League standings.

The wet ball and field hampered the Indians and they didn't make as good an offensive showing as expected. However, even though the turf was sloppy, Mickey Pellum was able to continue thrilling the fans with his amazing broken field running. Also picking up a lot of yardage for Palm Springs was John Cunningham, the powerful Indian fullback, who was running through, over, and around Beaumont players the entire game.

PALM SPRINGS SCORED its first touchdown in the opening minutes of the first quarter when after recovering a Beaumont fumble on the Cougar 43, they marched all the way with Vic Reyes finally taking it over from 2. The try for the extra point was no good and the Indians led 6 to 0.

Palm Springs didn't hit pay dirt again until midway into the second stanza and once more it was a Beaumont fumble that set up the Indian score. This time the local footballers took over on the Cougar 14. Three plays later Cunningham lugged it over from the 2. The Indian fullback also made the point after. This made the score 13 to 0 and that's the way it stayed until halftime.

BEAUMONT PROVED to be a little peskier than expected and held the Indians scoreless for almost the entire second half, faltering only in the closing minutes of play when Mickey Pellum broke loose on a 35 yard jaunt to the Cougar 4. Two plays later Cunningham carried it over. Pellum added the extra point and that was the scoring, 20 to 0 Palm Springs.

The defensive standstill in the game was Vic Reyes. From his line backing spot Reyes stopped Beaumont runners everywhere on the field with driving, vicious tackles.

In other action last night the Banning Broncos upset the highly touted Coachella Arabs to clinch the Riverside County League Championship.

Next Friday the Indians travel to San Jacinto to tackle the rugged San Jacinto Tigers in the final R.C.L. game.

Chevation Heads Gallant Fox Field

NEW YORK (UP)—The 17th running of the Gallant Fox Handicap comes up for decision at Jamaica today with 11 top-flight handicap stars, headed by the Foxcatcher Farm's top-weighted Chevation, battling for the winner's share of $50,950.

The distance for the Gallant Fox, the richest event on the Jamaica Calendar, is set at a mile and five-eighths.

Lined up against Chevation and probably his strongest opponents, are the Christiana Stable's Thinking Cap and the Wheatley Stable's Misty Morn, perhaps the top three-year-old filly in training. Thinking Cap gets in under 116 pounds, while Misty Morn has been assigned three less pounds.

Chevation won the New York handicap, his last start, in easy style and has won two starts in

Tatum Accused of Wanting to be Television Star

CLEMSON, S. C., (UP)—Maryland Coach Jim Tatum, accused of wanting to be the TV star in place of his team, was defended today by a spokesman who placed the blame on a contract commitment.

Washington TV station WTOP in an "editorial" telecast last night criticized Tatum for refusing it permission to film the Maryland-Clemson game here today for presentation on Sunday.

The permission was refused because Tatum has a TV program of his own on Monday night in which he is scheduled to present highlights of the game, Tatum told WTOP by telephone yesterday afternoon.

Tatum, the station said, is confusing "his obligation as athletic director of a state university with his status as a television performer."

The station quoted Tatum as saying that "he felt that program, sponsored by a Maryland bank, would suffer by WTOP's film presentation of the whole game."

A spokesman for Tatum added, however, that the contract with the sponsor, made before WTOP made its request, stipulates that no previous TV presentation be permitted.

All stations were invited to bid for live telecast or later telecast rights in accordance with NCAA agreements if the game were a sell-out but no station bid until WTOP made its request yesterday the spokesman said.

Becker Now Knows Coaching Hazardous

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Jim Decker, former University of Southern California fullback, learned Thursday how hazardous it is to be a football coach nowadays. Decker coached girls from the north side of sorority row who lost to the south side 12-0. Result: Decker was hanged in effigy from a telephone pole.

SPORTS in the SUN

MODERN GOLF

By DALE ANDREASON
Golf Instructor at El Mirador Hotel

When anyone starts to play golf or tries to improve on his game by some change in the swing, the golfer or would-be golfer goes through three stages.

First, because the action you are going into is new and the muscles of the body are not used to it, this beginning action is known as uncontrolled reflex. After continuous practice it becomes a controlled reflex action which in later stages becomes muscle memory.

All great players must have one basic factor in their swing and that is good timing. No one can give this to you or teach it to you. You find your own particular timing through setting a consistency of action.

In watching various golfers you have probably wondered how they could possibly score as well as they do with such terrible looking swings. But they have made the same mistakes in their swing so long that they have acquired a certain element of timing.

Every time I see a golfer in this position I can't help but feel that if the individual had spent as much time with solid basic fundamentals and correct practice equal to the time he must have spent to get good timing for the awkward action he would have had to be a fine player with beautiful form.

Remember again, practice never makes perfect unless it is correct practice.

Sewell Accepts Job with Rainiers

TORONTO (UP)—Luke Sewell, accepting what he termed "a somewhat better opportunity," left the Toronto Maple Leafs Baseball Club today to become manager of the Seattle Rainiers in the Pacific Coast League.

Seattle has served as a major league managerial springboard for three successive managers—Paul Richards, Rogers Hornsby and Fred Hutchinson—and Sewell felt it might help him return to the big leagues also.

Sewell, who managed the St. Louis Browns from 1941 until 1946 and piloted the Cincinnati Redlegs from 1950 until 1952, led the Maple Leafs to an International League pennant in 1954 but finished second to Montreal by a half game this year.

The Rainiers signed the 54-year old Sewell at Vancouver, B. C., where the PCL is holding its annual meeting of club directors. Terms were not announced but Sewell is expected to receive an estimated $17,000.

Play in Senior Tourney to End Tomorrow at Club

Top-seeded John Sisson and Joe Ciano led the field of 24 players in singles wins yesterday to head into today's doubles at the Racquet Club's second annual Senior Tennis Tournament. Play will continue through tomorrow, with approximately 30 men and eight women competing.

Sisson defeated George Ripley, 6-2, 6-2; and Ciano topped Martin Cornica, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2, to lead in the second round of singles play.

EARLIER, Ripley beat Bernard Brown, 1-6, 7-5, 6-2; Judge Joseph Call took William Lepper, 2-6, 6-0, 6-1; and Cal Carey walloped Al Jablow in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, in the first round. All other first round matches were byes (default).

Sisson, who is seeded number two behind defending Champion Ed Woodall, will also play this afternoon in a doubles match against Ciano and Van Zerbe. Sisson's partner will be Alan Harrington.

Other top seeded players include Carl Busch, Lewis Bond, and R. W. Burbridge.

TWO CLASSIFICATIONS will compete within their own ranks, championship and Class A. Sunday's play will feature mixed doubles as an added classification. Mousie Powell and Dinah Shore are two of the eight ladies to participate in the extra event. The men who will be their partners have not yet been chosen. That pairing will be made this evening. The Senior Tournament is nationally recognized. Senior Championship Tournaments are held annually in Forest Hills, New York, and Brookline, Massachusetts. Six of the top-seeded netters in the Racquet Club tourney are listed within the top 20 national Senior Tennis standings.

Bruins Favored by Four TDs Over Washington

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The powerful UCLA football team, seeking the Pacific Coast Conference bid to the Rose Bowl, clashes with Washington today in Memorial Coliseum. The Bruins are favored by four touchdowns.

Victory in today's game could clinch the Rose Bowl bid for UCLA. But Oregon State still could top the Bruins mathematically and squeeze into the Rose Bowl as the PCC's representative.

If UCLA loses to either Washington today or USC next week, it would end up with a 5-1 record. Oregon State, on the other hand, by sweeping over California today and Oregon next week could finish with six conference wins and one loss.

However, the Oregon State slate would include a win over Idaho, which is not a strong victory. Moreover, the Bruins rolled over the Beavers in a 38-0 crusher.

UCLA has shut out five opponents this season. In eight games, a total of only 33 points were scored by opponents against the Bruins. A Washington victory would be a stunning upset.

SAM IS BUSY

SINCE HIS RETURN he has sold 160 acres of fine land for only $17,600; a 40 acre subdivision for $40,000 and has in escrow another large acreage deal.

MANY PALM SPRINGS brokers bring their clients to Sam for acreage. Why? Because Sam loves acreage. He loves to find buried section markers; dig test holes to show you the type of soil. He can tell you what soils are best adapted for. His agricultural maps tell you things you need to know. He knows the depths to water in most areas. He knows land values — what they were in 1932, 1942 and now. He shows you how he made money for everyone he has sold acreage to — fortunes in fact for many investors. No stock in recent years has done as well as some of Sam's acreage investments. A $2800 investment in 1946 is now worth $300,000.
We prove our almost unbelievable statements. Sam has lived here 24 years. If you have a fine Cadillac car would you want a novice repairing or working on it? If you want a land investment why not come to Sam. He is not a novice.

We have now the following to offer:

1. 100 acres, house, deep well, road, close — only $25,000 with terms.
2. 360 acres in 40 acre pieces up, for $150 acre — opposite a big ranch development, highway, electric power and railroad.
Fine for clean industry — farming or lower priced subdivision.
3. 30 acres on Palm Springs-Indio highway for $850 per acre.
4. 40 level acres, rich ground, closest available ground to Cathedral City for $770 per acre. This piece alone is worth $150 an acre right now and will be worth $4000 an acre a few years hence. Many more buys.
